EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

ISEAS is a regional research centre dedicated to the study of socio-political, security and economic trends in Southeast Asia and its wider geo-strategic and economic environment. Within this broad mission framework, ISEAS continued in FY 2002–03 to conduct research and analysis on academic and policy-relevant issues, public outreach activities to promote a better understanding among the public of trends and developments in the region, and networking with scholars and other research institutes.

The world, in particular our region, has witnessed dramatic developments over the past few years. These have, as is to be expected, affected the research agenda of ISEAS. While the study of Southeast Asia will continue to be the focus of ISEAS research, there has been an emphasis on new issues such as political Islam, terrorism, and the economic dynamics arising from the fallout from the regional economic crisis and the rise of China.

Among the major research projects initiated at the Institute were "Demographic Trends in Indonesia and their Ethnic, Religious and Political Implications"; "Ethnicity, Demography and Political Economy in Malaysia: Current Trends and Future Challenges"; "Corporate Governance in ASEAN"; and "ASEAN Economic Integration". Also initiated were studies on the ASEAN-China, ASEAN-India, and ASEAN-Japan relationships.

Major ISEAS conferences or workshops during the year included conferences on Islam in Southeast Asia and on International Migration in Southeast Asia; a workshop on Nation-Building Histories in Indonesia, Malaysia, Philippines, Singapore and Thailand; and the ASEAN Roundtable on Entrepreneurship and SMEs.

There was a busy schedule of public outreach activities. The annual Regional Outlook Forum that examines political and economic trends in the region for the coming year drew over 500 attendees in January 2003. There were several other forums and seminars on subjects ranging from domestic politics and economics of Southeast Asian countries to the rise of political Islam, ASEAN, and the impact of the Iraq war on the region. Two Singapore Lectures were organized on the occasions of the visits to Singapore of Prime Minister Atal Bihari Vajpayee of India and European Commission President Romano Prodi. A public lecture by Indian Deputy Prime Minister Shri Lal Krishna Advani was also organized.

ISEAS maintained extensive networking with universities, research institutes, think-tanks and individual scholars in Southeast Asia, East Asia and beyond, and with regional and international organizations.

ISEAS also continued to host visiting scholars and researchers from all over the world, although most were from Southeast Asia. More senior scholars with expertise in Southeast Asia have been invited to spend time at the Institute on visiting fellowships. They not only impart their expertise through writing and seminars but also help enliven the intellectual climate at ISEAS.

The work of ISEAS research staff is multifaceted. In addition to doing research, they also organize conferences, seminars and forums, and brief or participate in discussions with the many visitors to ISEAS, including foreign dignitaries, diplomats and scholars. ISEAS research staff also have editorial responsibilities: they have continued to produce three scholarly journals, ASEAN Economic Bulletin, Contemporary Southeast Asia and SOJOURN and two annuals, Southeast Asian Affairs 2002 and Regional Outlook 2003–04.

Finally, ISEAS is well supported by the ISEAS Library and the ISEAS Publications Unit. In addition to ISEAS researchers and the university community, the Library has been made accessible to the Singapore public and private sectors. The Publications Unit continued to enjoy regional and international reputation as a publisher of scholarly works on the region and brought out a number of well-received titles during the year.

MISSION STATEMENT

The Institute of Southeast Asian Studies (ISEAS) was established as an autonomous organization in 1968. It is a regional research centre dedicated to the study of socio-political, security, and economic trends and developments in Southeast Asia and its wider geostrategic and economic environment.

The intention is not only to stimulate research and debate within scholarly circles, but also to enhance public awareness of the region and facilitate the search for viable solutions to the varied problems confronting the region.

In a world increasingly dominated by the forces of globalization and regionalization, networking has become an imperative. The Institute is strategically placed to assist international, regional, and local scholars and other researchers in this networking process by serving as a centre that provides a congenial and stimulating intellectual environment, encouraging the fullest interaction and exchange of ideas in an unfettered ambience. ISEAS is dedicated to long-term reflective analysis and investigation in the best traditions of scholarship. The Institute also seeks to stimulate thinking on, and exploring solutions to, some of the major salient issues in the region.

To achieve these aims, the Institute conducts a range of research programmes; holds conferences, workshops, lectures, and seminars; publishes research journals and books; and generally provides a range of research support facilities, including a large library collection.

The Institute welcomed Mr K. Kesavapany as its new Director on 1 November 2002. Mr Kesavapany succeeds Professor Chia Siow Yue, who retired on 10 October 2002 after being at the helm of ISEAS since 1996.

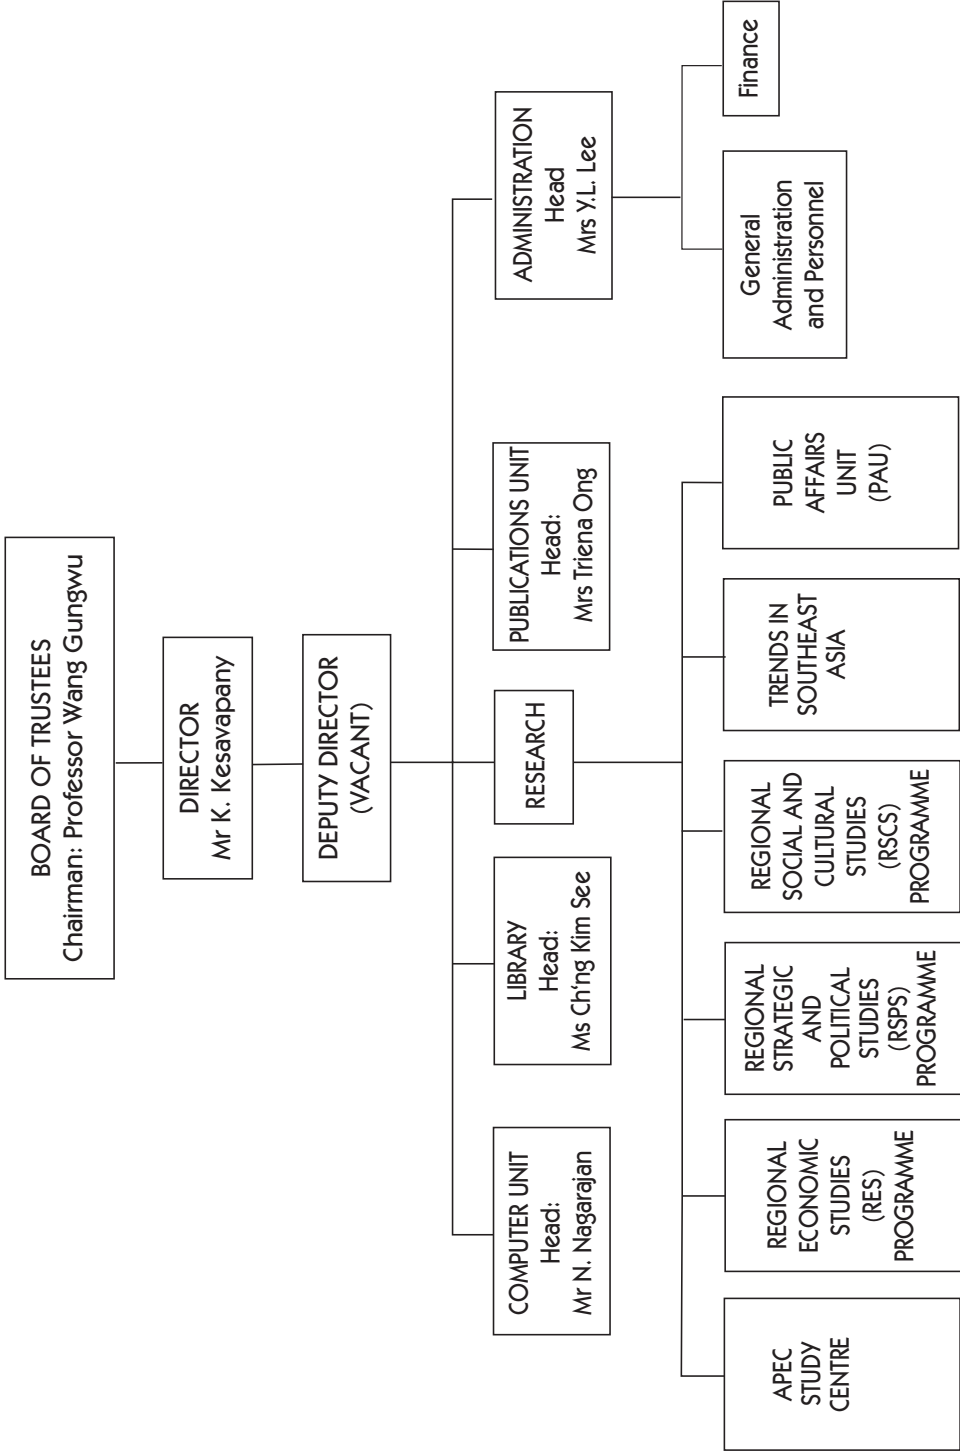

Under Professor Chia's guidance, ISEAS maintained its role as a regional research centre for scholars and other specialists with interests in contemporary Southeast Asia. She spearheaded numerous public lectures and conferences, and played a pivotal role in networking ISEAS with academic, research and policy-making communities in the region. The Institute extends its best wishes to Professor Chia Siow Yue on her retirement.

Mr Kesavapany commenced his career in the Civil Service in 1967, and joined the Foreign Service in 1972. From March 1997 until 2002, Mr Kesavapany was Singapore's High Commissioner to Malaysia. Prior to that, he was Singapore's Permanent Representative to the United Nations in Geneva and concurrently accredited as Ambassador to Italy and Turkey. In recognition of his distinguished service, Mr Kesavapany was awarded the Public Administration Medal (Gold) in 2001.

Mr K. Kesavapany, ISEAS' New Director as of 1 November 2002.

RESEARCH PROGRAMMES AND ACTIVITIES

The research programmes and activities at ISEAS are carried out by a core group of research staff as well as by a larger group of visiting scholars, researchers, and affiliates. The research and related activities of the Institute are grouped under three research programmes — Regional Economic Studies (RES), Regional Strategic and Political Studies (RSPS), and Regional Social and Cultural Studies (RSCS).

Research Staff

The Director oversaw the work of more than 27 senior fellows, senior research fellows, fellows, and research associates during the year, each assigned to one of the three research programmes. The research staff are engaged in numerous activities besides group and individual research. They function as co-ordinators and organizers of research projects, training programmes, conferences, public lectures, and seminars; editors and referees of ISEAS journals, working papers, and book publications; resource persons for training programmes and briefings; as well as oversee the visiting researchers and scholars.

Appendix IV lists the research and publications of the research staff for the year.

Visiting Researchers and Affiliates

ISEAS played host to about 62 researchers and scholars in FY2002/03. The lists of visiting researchers, scholars, and affiliates are given in Appendices V and VI. They fall into the following categories:

(a) Visiting research fellowships on ISEAS stipends or ISEAS-administered grants. These vary in seniority and duration and include the Distinguished Professorial Research Fellow, Visiting Professorial Fellows, Visiting Senior Research Fellows, Visiting Senior Fellow, and Visiting Research Fellows.

Regional Strategic and Political Studies (RSPS) Programme
(Co-ordinator: Dr Derek da Cunha)

The RSPS programme addresses strategic issues within the Southeast Asian setting and the dynamics of political change in the regional states. It deals not only with regional responses to globalization trends and universal concepts but also with empirical and theoretical issues related to politics, security, and international relations from the regional and national perspectives. The programme is also aimed at enhancing the knowledge and understanding of the region by Southeast Asians themselves; expanding the existing body of regional expertise on strategic and political matters; and constructive exchanges of views and ideas among those in the region as well as between the region and the rest of the international community.

The year saw the RSPS programme focusing a significant part of its research agenda on the impact of political Islam on Southeast Asia following the September 11, 2001, terrorist attacks in the United States. This was demonstrated in the programme's series of seminars. One such seminar was jointly organized by ISEAS and the Institute of Defence and Strategic Studies, Nanyang Technological University. Entitled "Islam and Human Rights: Challenges and Prospects of Internal Transformation", the seminar drew a number of international scholars on Islam and was chaired by the Singapore Minister in charge of Muslim Affairs and Acting Minister for Community Development and Sports, Dr Yaacob Ibrahim. The seminar, held at ISEAS, drew 128 participants.

Major conferences and workshops

- The sixth annual "Forum on Regional Strategic and Political Developments", Grand Copthorne Waterfront Hotel, 25 July 2002. ### Regional Social and Cultural Studies (RSCS) Programme

(Co-ordinator: Dr Lee Hock Guan)

The Regional Social and Cultural Studies (RSCS) Programme at ISEAS is devoted to the study of key issues in the socio-cultural development of Southeast Asia, including globalization, urbanization, migration, social class formation, nation-building, ethnicity, religion, family and gender.

Major Research Projects

- "Vietnam Update". For the second year running, ISEAS co-funded the Australian National University (ANU) Vietnam Update conference. This is a cutting-edge conference where Vietnam specialists gather annually to present their research on a specific rather than general theme. This conference began at the ANU in 1990 and has since issued volumes on topics such as The Law in Vietnam and Mass Media in Vietnam. The 2002 conference was held at the ANU with the theme "Local Government and Authority in Vietnam". In 2001, the Update was held for the first time outside the ANU when ISEAS hosted the conference in Singapore. Volumes of both these conference papers will be published by ISEAS. The RSCS programme of ISEAS has been instrumental in managing this joint project with the ANU.

Major Conferences and Workshops

- "History of Nation-Building in Southeast Asia". This project aims to look at the processes of nationalism, nation-building and regionalism in Southeast Asia in the last four decades through a historical perspective. It covers the selected cases of Thailand, the Philippines, Indonesia, Malaysia and Singapore which will be examined by five prominent historians of the respective countries. The project aims to produce a series on the nation-building histories of the five countries and a sixth volume that takes a regional view. Professor Wang Gungwu is the project co-ordinator and series editor. Malaysia: The Making of a Nation by Cheah Boon Kheng was published in 2002. A workshop entitled "Nation-Building Histories: Thailand, Philippines, Indonesia, Malaysia and Singapore" was held on 23–24 September 2002 at ISEAS.
- Conference on "International Migration in Southeast Asia: Challenges and Impacts". This conference looked at the social, political and economic implications of migration within Southeast Asia and into the region from other countries. Scholars from both within and outside the region were invited to participate in the conference. The conference was fully funded by the Konrad-Adenauer-Stiftung. The conference was held on 30 September–1 October 2002 at ISEAS.

- ISEAS-NUS (Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences) Forum on Women and Development in Malaysia and Singapore. This forum highlighted various aspects of women and development in Malaysia and Singapore; women and globalization; women's participation in the economic development of Malaysia; women and leadership in Singapore; Islam and its impact on women's rights in Malaysia; and women and economic development in Singapore. The forum was held on 8 January 2003 at ISEAS.

To commemorate the visit to ISEAS on 27 January 2003, RAdm Teo Chee Hean, Minister for Education and Second Minister for Defence, planted a Tembusu tree.

Regional Networks

ISEAS continues to network extensively with academic institutions, individual scholars, and researchers, and regional and multilateral institutions and groupings not only in Southeast Asia but also in Northeast Asia, South Asia, the Indian Ocean Rim, Western Europe, North America, and Latin America. Networking takes many forms — ISEAS membership of formal networks; foreign participation in ISEAS conferences, workshops, seminars, and publications; joint organization of conferences and seminars either in Singapore or overseas; and the ISEAS Director and research staff participating in joint research projects and in overseas conferences and workshops.

Five major networks are described below:

- Singapore APEC Study Centre: The Institute has been operating as Singapore's APEC Study Centre (ASC) since 1994 and is a founder member of the International Consortium of APEC Study Centres. The ISEAS Director, as Director of the Singapore ASC, has participated actively in the annual meetings of the International Consortium of APEC Study Centres, which represents the academic arm of APEC. In 2002, the Meeting was organized by the APEC Study Center at El Colegio de Mexico and was held on 22–23 May in Merida. The theme of the Meeting was "From the Asia Financial Crisis to a Global Recession: Towards a more proactive role for APEC?".
- Pacific Economic Cooperation Council (PECC): Before her retirement, Professor Chia Siow Yue was a council member of the Singapore chapter of PECC (SINCPEC). Professor Chia was the representative of SINCPEC on the PECC Trade Forum. In that capacity she participated in the Forum held in Lima, Peru, on 17–19 May 2002.
- East Asian Development Network (EADN): In mid-1998 the World Bank selected ISEAS to develop this regional network in East Asia which, together with regional networks in other regions of the world, aims at promoting capacity building and networking among research institutions and researchers in each of the World Bank's seven developing regions. The EADN has an institutional membership of over 30 institutes in East Asia, stretching from China to Indonesia. The EADN ceased its affiliation with ISEAS on 10 October 2002.

- Nomura Research Institute AT10 Network: The Tokyo-based institute co-ordinates and funds the activities of the Network, which comprises one leading research institute from each of ten East Asian economies. ISEAS participates in the annual research project and publishes the research results for Nomura. There is also an annual AT10 Presidents Meeting focusing on current developments and key issues in East Asia.
- Japan Center for International Exchange (JCIE): ISEAS co-partners JCIE in the Intellectual Dialogue on Building Asia's Tomorrow, the Asia Pacific Agenda Project (APAP), and the Council for Asia-Europe Cooperation (CAEC). The partnership has involved collaborative research projects, joint conferences, and joint publications.

Public Affairs Unit

(Co-ordinator: Mr Daljit Singh)

The Public Affairs Unit (PAU) co-ordinates two annual publications, public forums, and briefings which are part of the Institute's public outreach agenda and which do not fall directly under the three research programmes. The highlights during 2002–03 were:

- Southeast Asian Affairs 2002, an annual review of political and economic developments in the region, with articles by experts from or outside the region.
- Regional Outlook: Southeast Asia 2002–2003, an annual preview of anticipated economic and political trends in the region, written for the non-specialist, largely by in-house researchers.
- "Regional Outlook Forum 2003". The Regional Outlook Forum is an annual event that provides a forward-looking analysis of emerging political, security and economic trends and challenges in East and Southeast Asia by leading experts drawn from both within and outside the region. The January 2003 Forum attracted about 530 participants, including the financial and business community, the diplomatic corps, the academic community and the public sector. Keynote speakers were Dr Richard Solomon, President of the United States Institute of Peace and former Assistant Secretary of State for East Asian and Pacific Affairs; and Professor Yang Jiemian, Vice-President, Shanghai Institute for International Studies.

Professor Yang Jiemian, Vice-President, Shanghai Institute for International Studies, PRC (at the rostrum) and Dr Richard H. Solomon, President, United States Institute of Peace, USA (centre), were Keynote Speakers at the Regional Outlook Forum, held on 7 January 2003. It was chaired by Professor Wang Gungwu, Chairman, ISEAS Board of Trustees and Director, East Asian Institute, National University of Singapore.

- Briefings: During the year, the Director and senior researchers provided numerous formal and informal briefings on political, security, economic, and social developments and trends in Southeast Asia, East Asia and APEC. The briefings were provided for the following: visiting Lee Kuan Yew Exchange Fellows, officials of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs proceeding on overseas postings, visiting individuals and delegations from international and regional organizations, foreign governments, academic institutions, funding agencies and the media.
- The Singapore Lecture: The Singapore Lecture, inaugurated in 1980, is designed to provide an opportunity for distinguished statesmen and leading intellectuals to reach a wider audience in Singapore. The presence of such eminent personalities allows Singaporeans, especially younger executives and decision-makers in both the public and private sectors, the opportunity to hear leading world figures speak on topics of international and regional concern and interest.

During the year, the Institute organized two Singapore Lectures. The 21st and 22nd Singapore Lectures were delivered by HE Atal Bihari Vajpayee, Prime Minister of India, and HE Romano Prodi, President of the Commission of the European Communities, on 9 April 2002 and 6 July 2002 respectively, under the distinguished chairmanship of Mr Lee Hsien Loong, Deputy Prime Minister and Minister for Finance. The topic of HE Vajpayee's lecture was "India's Perspectives on ASEAN and the Asia-Pacific Region", and HE Prodi spoke on "EU and Asia: Sharing Diversity in an Inter-regional Partnership".

- Public Lectures: As part of the Institute's mission to stimulate thinking and explore solutions to major salient issues in the region, ISEAS holds Public Lectures for a wider audience, reaching beyond the academic community to attract bureaucrats, diplomats, business executives, and the media.

PUBLICATIONS UNIT

(Head: Mrs Triena Ong)

At a time of economic slowdown and budget cuts, the strategy of the Publications Unit has been to cut costs and develop new business models to better utilize existing resources.

New Strategies

- Traditionally, books and journals have been available only in printed form. New technologies now make it possible to issue the same material at no extra cost in electronic form. An added bonus of e-delivery is speed.
- The website of the Publications Unit <<http://bookshop.iseas.edu.sg>> was further enhanced to provide more comprehensive services related to electronic publishing. A long-term plan was implemented to digitize the past 29 years of articles from ISEAS' three journals (Contemporary Southeast Asia; ASEAN Economic Bulletin; and SOJOURN: Social Issues in Southeast Asia) and the annual review (Southeast Asian Affairs) and make these available electronically.
- E-mail alerts to highlight new ISEAS titles were sent out on a more regular basis. This served to increase promotional activity without incurring any costs.
- Short-run printing of selected titles reduced the budget for the initial print-run. Reprints or e-versions were options for ensuring that the book continued to be available.

New Manuscripts

The Publications Unit continued to receive manuscripts from authors who are researchers at ISEAS, as well as from other specialists all over the world. Each submission undergoes a stringent review process by the Manuscript Review Committee to determine its suitability for publication. In the year under review, a total of 90 book-length manuscripts were received.

New Series

A new series was announced in March 2003, titled the Southeast Asia Background Series. This series of short books aims to advance ISEAS' public outreach objective: "To promote a better awareness among the general public of trends and developments in the region". The first books in this series will be launched in 2003-04.

New Publications

The Publications Unit continued to handle all aspects of editing and producing ISEAS books and journals. For the year under review, a total of 39 publications were issued (see Appendix VIII).

Book Promotion, Marketing, and Distribution

A proactive approach to ensuring that ISEAS books are promoted worldwide included the following channels:

- the print and electronic catalogue ISEAS Books 2002/03
- enhanced website <<http://bookshop.iseas.edu.sg>>
- 29 printed fliers sent to 19,000 customers in 100 countries
- 11 paid advertisements in scholarly journals and conference programmes, in addition to 7 exchange advertisements
- 21 listings in abstracting and indexing databases
- 30 e-mail alerts
- 48 book reviews in journals and newspapers in Asia, Europe, United States and Australia
- 34 book displays at specialist academic conferences, locally and abroad
- 3 bookfairs locally and overseas.

Co-Publications

Books reach a wider audience through co-publication arrangements with other publishers, organizations and institutes. Such arrangements also help to reduce costs by spreading the costs between the joint publishers. For the year under review, a total of 10 books were co-published with partners in Thailand, India, Japan, Australia, Canada, Germany, the Netherlands, the United Kingdom and the United States.

Translations

Although all of ISEAS books are issued in English, translation rights are freely available. This is especially to encourage indigenous publishers in the Southeast Asian region to use ISEAS material for dissemination in their local languages. In 2002/03, rights were negotiated for the translation of three books into Bahasa Indonesia, and three articles – one into Vietnamese, one Japanese and one Chinese.

L I B R A R Y

(Head: Miss Ch'ng Kim See)

The report year was preoccupied with finalizing the retrofitting of the airconditioning of the Library building. The Library retrofitting project was extended from March 2002 to March 2003 inclusive due to a number of hiccups discovered during works on the Library's air-conditioning system, associated building works and installation of a fumigation chamber.

ISEAS Library 21 Five-Year Vision Plan: The ISEAS Board of Trustees (BOT) approved and accepted the ISEAS Library 21 five-year perspective plan prepared by the Head, ISEAS Library and approved by the BOT Ad Hoc Library Committee (LC) set up under the chairmanship of BOT Member Mr Barry Desker to study the plan that the BOT had requested the Library to propose. Members of the Committee were BOT Members Mr Bilahari Kausikan, Associate Professor Lee Boon Hiok, Professor Andrew Phang Boon Leong, Mrs Tan Ching Yee, as well as Miss Jill Quah, Chief Librarian, NUS Central Library and Mr R Ramachandran, Director, National Library Board, with the ISEAS Director and ISEAS Executive Secretary as ex-officios, and the Head of Library in attendance. The ISEAS Library 21 Proposal has been put on hold.

The Collection

The Library's collection at the end of the report year stood at 497,815 items. Processed print and microform materials totalled 371,390 items, i.e., 152,510 titles, an increase of 1.7 per cent (2,585 titles) over those of the previous year's. This excluded the partially processed audio-visual materials of 83,861 items and the backlog of unprocessed 42,564 titles of print and microform materials, which increased by 4.8 per cent over the previous year's.

The Library catalogued 42 per cent (2,000 current titles) of this financial year's total acquisitions of 4,729 titles, and the remaining 58 per cent (2,729 titles) were added to the accumulated backlogs. In addition, another 585 titles of pre-April 2002 accumulated backlog titles were catalogued during the period. The current backlog of the report year was due to the shortage of staff who were deployed to other non-cataloguing processing work, special projects, and value-added services.

ISEAS-ADB

As a depository for the ADB (Asian Development Bank) publications, ISEAS Library received 216 publications from it.

Serials Collection

The current serials collection stood at 1,922 titles, with 75 new titles added.

Country Collections

The processed collection on the Southeast Asian region and countries rose to 97,607 titles, constituting 64 per cent. Vernacular languages of the region made up 51 per cent of the total library collection, inclusive of unprocessed titles, as shown in Figure 5.

Southeast Asian Cultural Collection (SEACC)

The Southeast Asian Cultural Collection is a multimedia documentation of cultural aspects of the region comprising mainly colour slides, black and white negatives, and photographs. The unique and valuable Dorothy Pelzer collection forms the core collection.

With additional funding from the Ministry, $90,000 was made available for the Library to scan and image 28,028 slides, and to add metadata cataloguing and indexing to 3,334 records of the scanned images.

Rare Books

The Library received a grant of $20,000 from the ASEAN-COCI (Association of Southeast Asian Nations-Committee on Culture and Information) through the National Library Board (NLB) to scan and image 560 out of print titles on Singapore and the region.

ADMINISTRATION AND COMPUTER UNIT

Administration

(Head: Mrs Y.L. Lee)

The Administration is finalizing the computerization of its financial systems to improve its administrative and financial practices and procedures.

It continues to carry out a wide range of administrative, accounting, budgetary, logistic, and personnel functions to support the Institute's research programmes, Library, Publications Unit, and Computer Unit.

The Singapore Government's annual grant, through the Ministry of Education, is the major source of ISEAS funding. For FY2002/03, ISEAS received an operating grant of $10,173,126 and a development grant of $639,900.

- The operating grant was about 2 per cent higher than the grant of $9,968,900 received in FY2001/02. This marginal increase was due mainly to the incremental amount approved by the Ministry, offset by the payment of a lower variable bonus.
- The operating grant covered the cost of the physical infrastructure (building rental and maintenance), purchase and maintenance of equipment, library acquisitions and maintenance, staff salaries, and some of the research and publication activities.
- A development grant of $639,900 was used for two projects, namely, the Retrofitting of Library and the IT Master Plan II.

In addition to the annual Government Grant, ISEAS also received a sum of $970,599 from other sources in FY 2002/03. These were donations, grants, and contributions from external sources (international agencies, foundations, co-partners of research projects and conferences) and domestic private benefactors, as well as income from training programmes, public lectures and research consultancies. The largest grant of $0.5 million was donated by the World Bank. The monies received from the various sources helped to fund fellowships and scholarships, research projects, conferences and seminars, and some staff salaries.

The Finance Section maintains the accounts according to audit requirements, and manages the income and expenditure of the different units of ISEAS (namely, Administration, Research, Library, Publications, Computer Unit) to provide transparency and accountability.

Appendix IX lists the donations, grants, contributions and income received.

The Institute wishes to express its appreciation to all donors and contributors for their generosity and support of its various intellectual activities.

Computer Unit

(Head: Mr Nagarajan Natarajan)

The Computer Unit maintains the Institute's ATM network and the WAN connectivity to NUSNET (NUS Network for Internet), BIG (Broadband Infrastructure for Government), and SILAS (Singapore Integrated Library Automation Service).

The Computer Unit is currently implementing the IT Master Plan II project, which includes the installation of new servers, operating systems, and applications, and the upgrading of network and end-user PCs and peripherals. The project is expected to be completed in FY 2004/05.

Other services provided by the Unit include:

- Providing technical support services, including training, to the Administration, Library, Publications Unit, and Research staff, visiting researchers, and trainees;
- Maintaining the Institute's hardware, databases and applications, and smart card security system; and
- Managing the Institute's IT budget and the IT hardware and software.
