

The Belitung Wreck

Sunken Treasures from Tang China

The Belitung Wreck

Sunken Treasures from Tang China

Copyright © 2004, Seabed Explorations New Zealand Ltd
All rights reserved

Project management: Zoi Kotitsa

Editing: Jayne Ward and Zoi Kotitsa assisted by Alessandra D'Angelo

Design: Hummel&Lang Design Agency, Würzburg, Germany, and Zoi Kotitsa

Photographs: Rachel McRae & Jan Hendriks, Frank Freihofer (pp. 155, 156 above, 159 below, 165 side views, 167 below, 169, 203, 205, 209, 211, 213, 215, 217 above, 219, 221, 223, 247 nos 38 and 39, 251, 257 no. 54, 259 no. 57, 261 no. 60, 267 no. 66, 275, 291 no. 81, 293, 297, 315, 317 no. 89, 319 no. 91, 325, 333, 345, 349, 373, 375 no. 114, 379, 381, 385, 387 no. 122, 388, 391 no. 127, 395, 397, 405, 423, 443, 577, 591 no. 253, 595, 603 no. 266, 609 no. 273, 611, 627 above, 651, 689), Hartwick Künker (p. 157 below, 159 above, 161, 163, 165 overviews, 295), Karl Öhrlein (pp. 505, 507, 513 no. 182, 517 no. 189, 527 nos 204 and 206, 535, 537, 539 no. 219, 543) and Boris Zorn (p. 167 above, 171 above)

Drawings (if not otherwise stated): Zoi Kotitsa

Cover Silver-gilt, circular, four-lobed box from the Belitung wreck (no. 18)

CONTENTS

- VII ACKNOWLEDGMENTS
VII NOTES TO THE READER

ESSAYS

- 2 A Ninth-century Arab or Indian Shipwreck in Indonesia (Michael Flecker)
40 History of Shipwreck Excavation in Southeast Asia (Roxanna Brown)
56 Late Tang Ceramics and Asia's International Trade (John Guy)
74 The Navigational Route of the Belitung Wreck and Late Tang Ceramic Trade (Hsieh Mingliang)
92 The Concept of the Conservation of Seawater Finds (Andreas Rettel)
116 A technological examination of some Chinese ceramics from the Belitung wreck (Nigel Wood)

CATALOGUE

GOLD, SILVER and BRONZE (François Louis)

- 132 Gold and Silver
192 Tang Bronze Mirrors
224 The Coins

CERAMICS

- 228 White Ware with Green Décor (Hsieh Mingliang)
300 White Wares of Northern China (Regina Krahl)
350 Green Wares of Southern China (Regina Krahl)
464 Changsha Ware (Liu Yang)
640 Various Ceramics (Chen Yuh-Shiow)
656 MISCELLANEOUS ARTEFACTS (Michael Flecker)

APPENDICES

- 708 Appendix I Changsha Bowls
1. Designs
2. Inscriptions
719 Appendix II Changsha Cups: Designs
720 Appendix III Ewers
1. Medallions on Ewers
2. Inscriptions on Ewers
723 Appendix IV Jars: Appliqués and Inscriptions
724 Appendix V Yue Wares: Designs
725 Appendix VI Ceramic Forms from the Belitung Wreck

740 CHINESE NAMES AND TERMS
744 BIBLIOGRAPHY
755 INDEX

Acknowledgments

Zoi Kotitsa

To present the main categories of the numerous finds from the Belitung wreck and give their historical frame was such an extensive undertaking that it could never have been achieved without the help of many individuals. I would like first to express my thanks to Tilman Walterfang, Managing Directors of Seabed Explorations New Zealand Ltd, for trusting me this project and for his support during its realization.

I am deeply grateful to Alessandra D'Angelo, Ph.D. candidate at the University of Würzburg, for her tireless dedication and assistance in editing this lengthy manuscript, preparing the index and the 'Chinese Names and Terms'. Her insights and suggestions during the project helped me enormously. Jayne Ward's contributions to the editing of the text were essential and Darlene Murphy made usefull linguistic suggestions. My also thanks go to Jeffrey Moser for the translation of the Chinese texts of Hsieh Mingliang. I extend my gratitude to Joachim Osse who capably has compiled the bibliographies of the authors.

I am especially grateful to Rachel McRae, who, assisted by Jan Hendricks, photographed the majority of the material with deep commitment and exacting care, as well as to Frank Freihofer, Hartwick Künker, Karl Öhrlein and Boris Zorn for the additional photographs. Thanks also go to the staff of Seabed Explorations New Zealand Ltd, in particular to Julina Ismail for her assistance and support during the work in New Zealand and for providing me with important information from there at all times during my work on this project in Germany. Sabine Hahn is also thanked for the wonderful cooperation between New Zealand and Germany.

Finally, special thanks go to the Hummel&Lang Design Agency in Würzburg, Germany, in particular to Manfred Lang for his creativity in designing this publication with me and to Thomas Lutz for the superior digital work.

Notes to the reader

The romanisation of Chinese words follows the pinyin system, regardless of the way in which they were originally published. The Chinese characters corresponding to the romanized words in this catalogue are provided in 'Chinese Names and Terms' (pp. 740-743). Titles of publications and names of authors in the bibliography are romanized according to the system used by the persons named or by the original publishers.